BERLIN IS TOLD TO INTERVIEW GEN. FOCH

EARLY VOTE IS LIGHT; OFFICIALS LACKING

County Handles the Election Under Difficulties; Fair Skies Stimulate Balloting in the Afternoon Hours

SOME PRECINCTS UP TO NORMAL

Last-Minute Rallies Are Quite Noticeable by Absence in One of Queerest Elections in History of California

Oakland and virtually all of Alameda County's handling today's election under difficulties. Many of those selected as election booth officials have been made ill by Spanish influenza, and substitutes have been difficult to obtain by reason of fear of the epidemic.

All of the polling places are open, however, although many of them are being run shorthanded. It is the purpose of County Clerk Gross to fill the vacancies by drafting persons who come to work at the polls for candidates, or from those who come to vote.

Early morning voting was very light according to the reports, but have been increased by the county clerk. It is believed, however, that the pleasant weather will have much to do with getting out vote somewhere near normal.

NORMAL AVERAGE IN THESE PRECINCTS.

Voting in eight precincts west of Broadway and south of Fourteenth street, 11 o'clock, averaged normal, according to the reports of the election boards, many of whom were officials at the primary. In some instances the voting was lighter and in others heavier than at the primary, but generally for these eight precincts it was considered normal.

In precinct No. 157, at Washington and Fifth, at 11 o'clock, 55 votes out of 450 registered had been cast; at No. 156, 43 out of 331; No. 165, Fifth and Market, 48 out of 233; at No. 158, Jefferson and Ninth, 45 out of 309; at No. 160, Tenth and Castro, 54 out of 250; at No. 161, Fifteenth and Grove, 65 out of 49.

At No. 129, Grand avenue and Park View Terrace, at 10:30, 57 had been cast of a registration of 300, and at No. 174, Athol and Acton place, 70 out of a total of 500.

COUNTY VOTE IS LIGHT AT NOON.

The vote throughout the county was light, and noon in San Leandro, where 26 per cent of the primary vote was cast in the morning, according to the city clerk's office, although it was expected that the night vote of workers returning from nearby industrial plants would raise this somewhat. Hayward and Alameda, both far to the west, far below the average. Livermore's vote showed signs of picking up in the afternoon, but will, officials say, be light.

Members of the health department and physicians generally have announced that, as ever, one wears a mask and is in no danger of contracting the influenza in the polling places.

There are many important offices to be filled at this election and every one is urged to vote unless there exists extraordinary personal reasons to prevent.

BERKELEY, Nov. 6.—The influenza epidemic scared Berkeley voters away from the polls, despite a rigid enforcement of the mask ordinance, and an unusually light vote was recorded at noon today.

In one large precinct of over 100 registered voters, but five others had cast their ballots up to 11 o'clock. A correspondingly small vote is reported in all sections of the city. It is thought likely, however, that the late commuter vote may bring up Berkeley's total this evening.

Estimates of but a 50 per cent turnout are being made today by political leaders. Berkeley is reported to give a large majority to both of the dry amendments appearing on the ballot. Two candidates for election to State offices, Fred W. Richardson, state treasurer, and C. C. Young, aspirant for the Lieutenant-governorship, are expected to poll big votes in their home city.

There are many important offices to be filled at this election and every one is urged to vote unless there exists extraordinary personal reasons to prevent.

ALLIED SUPREMACY IS KEPT ENEMY IS TO BE DISARMED MILITARY GUARANTEES GIVEN

BULLETIN

PARIS, Nov. 5, 6:30 p. m.—Premier Clemenceau today announced that the armistice conditions to Germany are the conditions laid down by Marshal Foch. These conditions, he said, are based on those given to Bulgaria, Turkey and Austria.

The conditions, Clemenceau said, are as follows: First, military guarantees of the security of the allied

Second, maintenance of allied military supremacy, in case hostilities are renewed.

Third, disarmament of the enemy as much as necessary to prevent renewal of hostilities.

"We have won the war, though we may have to wait," the premier declared.

When Clemenceau made his announcement the chamber was packed. The deputies and audience cheered repeatedly.

Freedom of Seas Is to Be Kept for Decision; Damage to Civilians to Be Repaid

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—President Wilson this afternoon notified Germany that she can get terms of an armistice from General Foch.

At the same time, in a note which Secretary Lansing gave the Swiss minister for transmission to Germany, it was revealed that the allies accepted President Wilson's fourteen peace principles with two reservations. These reservations were:

The allies must reserve to themselves complete freedom of interpretation in the peace conference of Wilson's clause on freedom of the seas.

Germany must make compensation for all damages she has done to the allied civilian population and their property.

This latter is an addition to President Wilson's provision that all invaded territory must be restored as well as evacuated and freed.

President Wilson, it was stated, agreed with the modification and addition to the two respective points in question in his peace formula.

SERBS STAGGER FROM LAND OF TERROR

CHIEF VICTORY IN HISTORY IS THAT OF ITALY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—What remains of the more than 200,000 Serbians who were deported to Bulgaria during three years of the Bulgarian invasion of Serbia are now being allowed to return to their native land—their bodies and minds shattered as the result of the atrocities of their captors.

A despatch received today at the Serbian embassy from the army general headquarters at Saloniki, Greece, told of almost unbelievable cruelties inflicted upon these poor people. For three years these prisoners have been without shelter, exposed to all kinds of privation and beaten for the slightest infraction of rules, the result being that they have been only half fed and have been forced to carry out the hardest work.

The Italian flag was hoisted over the castle of Buon Gonziglio amid enthusiastic outbursts by the population.

WITH THE ITALIAN ARMIES IN THE FIELD, Nov. 5.—At the moment the Austrian armistice became effective, the Italian and allied forces in a ten-day battle had attained the greatest military victory in the world's history.

When the battle opened more than a million bayonets, with an auxiliary million in the rear, opposed them. The victory was obtained by the Italians practically single-handed.

GERMANY MUST APPLY TO FOCH FOR ARMISTICE TERMS

TRUCE FOR BOLSHEVIKI HUNS LEFT ALSO SEEK IN HANDS OF CONCLUSION ALLY CHIEF OF STRIFE

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

LONDON, Nov. 5. (via Montreal).—The allies have decided that Germany must apply to Marshal Foch, the allied commander-in-chief, for an armistice. Premier Lloyd George stated in the House of Commons today:

The terms of the armistice with Austria were also announced to the house today by the premier.

Lloyd George said he was unable to give the house detailed information concerning the "complete agreement" the allies had reached on the armistice terms to be submitted to Germany.

The terms agreed upon by the allies, the premier added, have been submitted to President Wilson with a request that he forward them to the German government that if they wished to know the conditions they should apply to Marshal Foch in the usual military form.

Whatever Germany's reply might be, the associated powers awaited the armistice with perfect confidence.

Lloyd George stated that if the armistice were made by Germany it had been decided that the representatives would be associated with Marshal Foch at the conference.

Premier Lloyd George said that the Versailles conference had decided that Marshal Foch should be placed in supreme direction of the forces operating against Germany.

PARIS, Monday, Nov. 4.—The inter-allied conference having completed its labors at Versailles, Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain left tonight for London and Premier Orlando for Italy, started for Rome. The conference reached a complete agreement on the question of terms of an armistice for Germany.

BY JOHN EDWIN NEVIN,
International News Service Staff
Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—The allied armistice terms will be presented to the German high command through Field Marshal Foch in the field. They will not go forward through the German government.

This was authoritatively learned today. There are two reasons for this. First, the United States no longer has any definite line on exactly who now are the real rulers of Germany. The second is that the terms of necessity affect the German military organization. Consequently they should be initiated by the generalissimo of the allied forces.

It may be stated that the terms, not yet given out for publication, follow closely those under which Austria-Hungary surrendered and passed out of the war, leaving Germany to stand alone against the world.

Presumption in official circles here was that the stipulations would be in the hands of the German Government in less than twenty-four hours. If they are accepted a reply settling the issue of peace or further fighting may also be received within that time. The United States, however, President Wilson to cancel his proposed trip to New Jersey to vote in the Congressional elections.

SUBSTANCE APPROVED BY PRESIDENT WILSON

Although the complete text of the historic Versailles document probably is on the cables for Washington, its substance was reported on fully and approved by the President before the final draft was prepared.

Secretary Lansing made this statement:

According to an official report received this evening, the terms of the armistice to be offered to Germany have just been agreed to unanimously and signed by the representatives of the allies and the United States in Paris. The report further states that diplomatic unity has been completely achieved under conditions of utmost harmony.

Austrian Prisoners Taken in Italian Campaign Are Estimated at Half Million

WITH THE ALLIED FORCES IN FRANCE AND BELGIUM, Nov. 5.—(By the Associated Press).—Allied troops today began the siege of the city of Ghent, already surrounded virtually on three sides. The assault on the city was witnessed by Queen Elizabeth of Belgium and hundreds of her non-combatant subjects.

Belgian, French and American soldiers this afternoon have pushed up to the eastern outskirts of the beleaguered city with comparatively little resistance from the enemy, who apparently have evacuated the place.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Austrian prisoners captured by the Italians before the armistice took effect yesterday are estimated now at 500,000, and the booty taken includes 250,000 horses.

An official despatch from Rome today telling of the result of the final Austrian defeat says in the army of the Trentino alone over 150,000 prisoners fell into the hands of the Italians.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Le Quesnoy, the important fortified town eight miles southeast of Valenciennes, was captured by the British yesterday, together with its garrison of thousand men, Field Marshal Haig announced today.

The British thus wiped out a sharp salient which had been created early in yesterday's advance.

An additional advance of four to four miles was made, after overcoming strong resistance. In addition to Le Quesnoy, the villages of Le-Petit and Mireuil were captured. Further progress was made in the Mormal forest. Eth was taken.

PARIS, Nov. 5.—The French first army resumed the attack this morning and is making progress.

They captured Beaumont, Cesse and the Jaulnoy forest, and completely occupied the Meuse.

American engineers have now pontooned across the Meuse at two points, under heavy shell fire. Doughboys pouring across the newly constructed bridges drove the Germans from the east bank between Dun and Brieulles, pushing them back toward the great Woerw forest.

By BERT FORD,
International News Service Staff
Correspondent.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY NORTH OF VERDUN, Nov. 5, 1 p. m.—Smashing their way forward in the fifth day of their offensive on the Meuse river, Americans have captured Beaumont, Cesse and La Neuville and have "mopped up" the forest of Jaulny.

The Americans have forced a crossing of the Meuse at two points, the engineers throwing pontoon bridges across the stream under a heavy hail of bullets from German machine gunners.

ALL WEST BANK IN AMERICAN HANDS.

The Meuse was crossed near Brieulles and south of Cloy le Petit. All of the west bank of the Meuse as far north as Pouillon is now in American hands.

This represents an advance of six miles since yesterday morning and puts the American lines only nine miles from Sedan.

The fighting is hard and spectacular and it has proved that the doughboys are superior to the best of Germany's regular troops.

The Germans blew up the bridge-head at Stenay and are exploding mines.

The Meuse has been flooded to the width of a kilometer. Patrols are operating on the eastern side.

FIGHTING IS BITTER ALONG MEUSE RIVER.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY ON THE SEDAN FRONT, Nov. 5, 1:15 p. m. (By the Associated Press).—Bitter fighting is taking place along the Meuse river. American patrols again have succeeded in crossing the river at Brieulles on a pontoon bridge constructed under fire.

At other points along the front the Americans were reconnoitering other crossings.

The Germans have blown up the bridge across the Meuse between Laneuveille on the west bank and the important town of Stenay, on the east bank.

After the pontoon bridge at Brieulles had been constructed the Americans, who had been holding a second bridge across the Meuse at Clery-le-Petit, began developing a line on the heavily wooded and very difficult ground east of the river, between Clery and Brieulles, a 2½-mile front.

IS HAUL SURROUNDED.

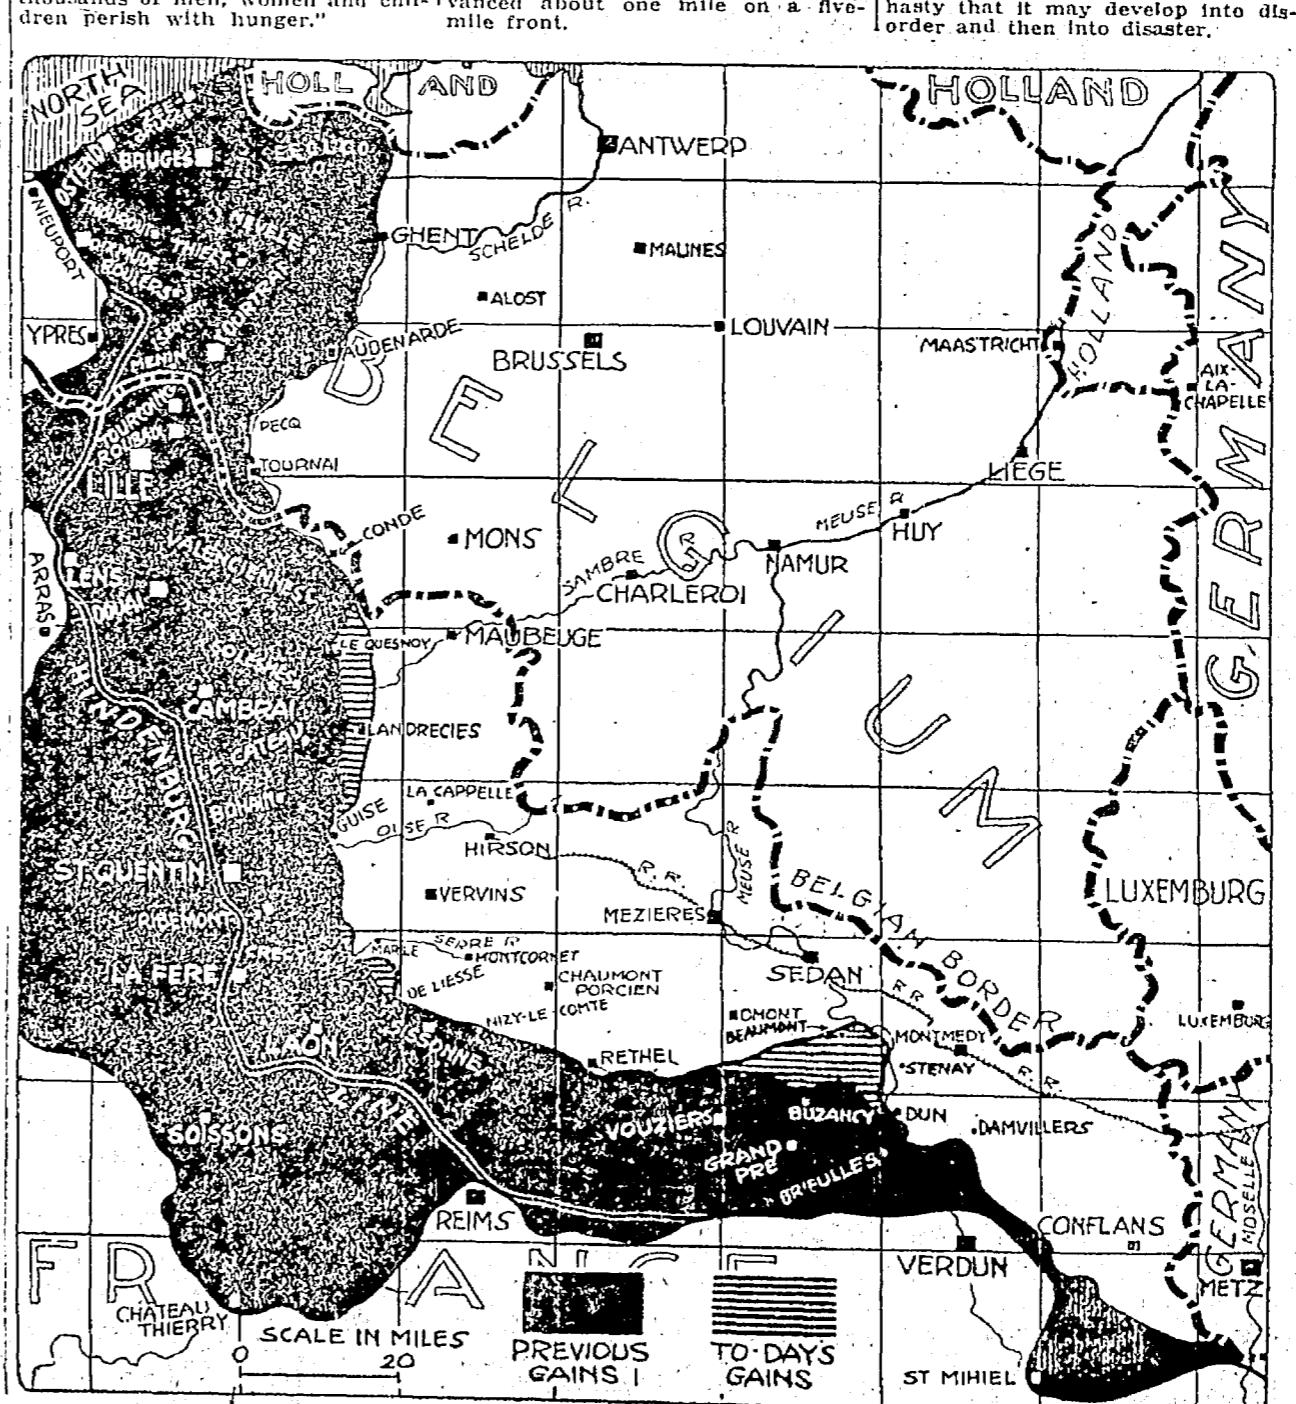

The town of Pouilly, in the bend of the Meuse, south of St. Mihiel, was captured by the Americans operating west of the Meuse. The west bank of the river now is held in its entirety as far north as Pouilly.

The troops which crossed to the east bank of the Meuse found their advance opposed by a bitter machine gun and artillery fire. This was overcome, however, and the Americans are making steady progress.

The village of Beaumont, directly west of Pouilly, has been taken by the forces which advanced from the heights which they hold below the town. The important town of Stenay, across the Meuse to the southeast, is now half surrounded.

The village of Chateauneuf, directly west of Pouilly, has been taken by the forces which advanced from the heights which they hold below the town.

The town of St. Mihiel, across the Meuse to the southeast, is now half surrounded.

DEATH CALLS WM. L. OLIVER, MINE EXPERT

William Letts Oliver, prominent in mining, manufacturing and industrial activities in California for more than a half century, died yesterday at his home in Vernon Heights after an illness of several months' duration. He was 74 years old. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Oliver residence, 261 Vernon street.

Born at Valparaiso, Chile, in 1844, of English parentage, Oliver was educated in Scotland and made a specialty of chemistry and metallurgy. On his graduation he returned to Chile, where he subsequently became government chemist and was in charge of the nitrate refineries. He came to California in the late sixties, where he entered the English firm of Cross & Co., subsequently becoming a partner. During that period he handled several large and prosperous mining properties for English clients of the firm. Among them were the Sierra Buttes Mining Company of Sierra county, which yielded $1,000,000 before being sold by the original owners; the Plumas Eureka mine of Plumas county, also a large dividend payer; the Black Bear of Shasta county and several extensive hydraulic mines of productive capacity.

German divisions are gravely beleaguered, they are nearing the limit of endurance in the matter of fatigue and are suffering further disastrous losses every day. The Germans have lost one-third of their artillery and the ammunition for the remaining part is of inferior quality.

Discussing Germany's future, the Chronicle says:

EPIDEMIC AT NAVY YARD NOW UNDER CONTROL

The announcement comes from the naval training camp at Mare Island that the influenza epidemic is practically over; that it is on the decline at the marine barracks, but that it is on the increase among the civilian yard workmen. No cases have been reported within a week from the west side of the island. However, no relaxation of precautions is now permitted, including the partition sheets between hammocks, the prophylactic sprays and the wearing of masks.

A survey covering the epidemic from its beginning to midnight, October 28, shows that 887 cases have occurred among the naval personnel of the navy training camp, receiving ship and navy yard, with a total of 43 deaths. The percentage of deaths in this group has been 4.8. Among those treated solely at the naval training camp hospital, numbering 810, the death rate was 3.1 per cent.

To date 142 men out of every 1000 have had the influenza among the navy personnel of Mare Island; 81 out of every 1000 men of the marine personnel and 419 out of every 1000 of the prisoner personnel.

Mare Island has responded to an appeal from the Red Cross influenza committee in San Francisco by sending a chief pharmacist mate and forty hospital corpsmen to the emergency hospital, thus increasing the capacity of nurses. The call was answered within twelve hours.

This Smoker's Mask Is Made Fireproof

BERKELEY, Nov. 6.—A safe fire mask for smokers.

Unwrapping a package bearing the address of the state railroad commissioners, S. D. Greene, associate counsel of the city of Berkeley, found this inscription this morning on an asbestos influenza mask sent him by the state officials. Ornamented with the state official's monogram, the mask in the center was a large Red Cross.

The receipt of the novel gift by Greene called a close call experienced by the state official when he attempted to enjoy a smoke with his gauze fire mask on. His attempt caused a near-panic at the city hall when the old gymnasium room and its door did gymnastic stunts in the corridors of the building.

"This is great," puffed Greene this morning as he sat contentedly in his office.

GOES INTO BUSINESS.

Leaving Cross & Co. he entered business for himself as a mining engineer, acting in that capacity for a number of prominent mines. About 1880 he began the manufacture of high-grade explosives, organizing first the Tonite Powder Company and building a large factory on the outskirts of Oakland.

He was largely interested also as a stockholder in other powder companies and finally organized the California Cap Company, making detonators for mining, quarrying, etc., which business he has owned for many years. He was also one of the principal owners of the Oliver Manufacturing Company and the Donk Gas Engine Company of Oakland.

He was a member of the grove committee of the Bohemian club for a long period and the excellence of the arrangements of that famous camp among the redwoods on the camp, he writes, was largely due to his thoughtful design and personal supervision. He acted as captain of the camp during the annual mid-summer Jinks of the Bohemian Club for over fifteen successive years.

MEMBER OF YACHT CLUB.

Oliver was a member of all the yacht clubs on San Francisco bay and was vice-commander of the San Francisco Yacht Club for many years. He also, during that period, owned the famous old yacht Emerald and later the motor yacht Bonito. He was a member of the Claremont and Diablo country clubs, having built a beautiful villa at the Mount Diablo club.

Oliver has been a resident of Oakland for some thirty-five years and was owner of one of the finest residences of this city on Vernon Heights. He leaves a wife, two sons, two daughters and twelve grandchildren. The oldest son, Roland L. Oliver, is at present managing several government munition plants in New Jersey. Edwin L. is engaged in the manufacture of Oliver filters. William Harold Oliver is manager of the Oliver Manufacturing Company's plant and A. Leslie Oliver is manager of the California Cap Company. The daughters are Carolyn O. Jones and Anita O. Jensen, residents of Oakland.

"Over 70, But Relieved By Internal Baths"

Mrs. J. M. Wadlin writes Dr. Charles A. Bell, of New York, as follows:

"Within the last month I had wonderful results and all inflammations nearly subsided. I could hardly expect a woman over 70 to receive benefit from a trouble of long standing as quickly as you younger person. Money can't buy my 'B. & Cascade' if I could not get another."

It is difficult to believe how many internal baths I have taken, but realize until you realize that physicians agree that 95 per cent of human ailments are caused by accumulated waste in the body.

The "B. & Cascade," the scientific method of internal bathing, removes, in a perfectly natural way, all poisonous waste, and has been successful in promoting health that over 90% of intelligent Americans are now using regularly.

As it was written by Chas. A. Tyrrell, M. D. of New York, who for 25 years has been a specialist on Internal Bathing and it is now being shamed and exposed in the papers.

Here's an easy way to save $2, and yet have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

When you do you will understand why thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will quickly earn it a permanent place in your medicine chest.

Into a pint bottle pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a real night of better cough remedy than you can buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough, and in 24 hours it seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat, tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

UNYIELDING FOE TO BE MENACED ON THREE SIDES

PARIS, Nov. 5.—Unless Germany surrenders, the nation will be completely encircled by hostile forces, it was forecast today by Colonel Fabry, famous French military critic.

The Austrian armistice terms opened the way for invasion of Germany from the south.

Allied armies are already in Russia.

The allied fleet can menace the northern coast and already allied armies in France are on the German border.

Several small wagers were made that Alfred E. Smith would carry New York City by 200,000.

2 BABIES, 1 DEAD

RICHMOND, Nov. 5.—Caught under the wheels of an ice truck last night as it was backing to turn around, little Harold Rose, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Rose, 515 Ninth street, was crushed to death, and his brother Jesse, four years old, had both legs broken. The truck is the property of the Mason Ice Company and was driven by Leo Castro. The driver gave himself up to the police and was released on his own recognizance.

According to Castro he had been delivering ice at the Cottage Hospital and on coming out started to back the truck. It appears that the little child ran and got under the rear of the truck and picked up fragments of ice. The first intimation that Castro had of the tragedy was when he heard the wheels crushing the baby's body.

Aghast at the tragedy Castro rushed the child into the hospital and was found to be dead with an injured head. Dr. H. J. Carpenter attended to the injured boy, who was afterwards returned to his parents' home.

LAWS LETTER TO
WILSON ADVISERSWOODEN BIRD
FLIES AMUCK;
STRIKES AUTOTribune Bureau
2011 SHATTUCK AVE.
BERKELEY, CALIF., Nov. 5.—It's a strange bird that doesn't fly, even if it is a wooden penguin.

Students at the school of military aeronautics at the University of California found this out to their surprise yesterday when a "penguin" used to teach prospective flyers to fly without leaving the ground took a sudden flight.

Escaping from its student operators, the penguin tried its wings by scaling over the fence of the flying field at Bancroft way and Milvia street, landing squarely in the middle of a passing automobile.

Beyond a very nervous shock to all concerned, no serious damage was done, both the automobile and the penguin escaping with minor injuries. The unruly "bird" is now safely locked up in its hanger.

The congressmen takes a charitable view of the presidential letter, believing the President was induced by Democratic leaders to write it by expressing alarm over the prospect of a Democratic defeat, and assuring him that such a letter would be worth a million votes.

"Every true friend of the President will wish that he had not written it," the congressman says. "Every one had given him praise and support for his fairness when he declared that politics was adjourned, but in the sending out of the partisan appeal for Democratic support he has demonstrated the high regard of his former conduct and became a mere politician."

Congressman Kahn expresses surprise at the rapidity with which messages favorable to victory and peace follow over the cables from Europe. Until recently, he says, he expected that the war would be hard won, but the capitulation of Turkey and Austria have changed conditions more rapidly and favorably than we dared hope. Nevertheless, he warns, the nation is still at war and must not relax its activities in any degree. Speaking of the problem of bringing the army home after victory, he says:

"If doubt if any considerable part of the 2,000,000 troops now on European soil can be demobilized in less than two years. In the first place the physical act of demobilization will be much slower than mobilization. We have had at our command the fast sailing tonnage of all the allies to transport these two million men. We must expect to rely more upon our own resources to bring them home."

"On the second place there can be no question but that such terms as are made with the enemy except by the maintenance of a considerable armed force until those conditions are actually carried out. There are many big questions in regard to occupation of territory which will take time to adjust and which will follow upon even an unconditional surrender."

RAIN OVER AFTER
1.25 INCHES FALL

Following desultory showers last night, the storm which since Sunday drenched Oakland with a rainfall totaling 1.25 of an inch cleared away, as predicted by Weather Forecaster Wilson, moving toward the Rockies. A slight rise in wind occurred last night, but did not work the damage on the waterfront the first blow Saturday night did.

The TRIBUNE rain gauge shows a rainfall of 52 of an inch since the last 24 hours of the storm, the heaviest fall of this period occurring yesterday afternoon, when a terrific shower, accompanied by thunder and lightning, took place.

Culver rice growers say that the rain did considerable damage to their crops, but elsewhere it was said to have been of little benefit. Physicians hold that, in clearing the air, it may have helped the influenza situation, although some authorities hold that dampness may aid in propagating the germ.

Information to that effect. He is informed that Director-General McAdoo, under date of October 26, advised President Forester of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks and President George C. Taylor of the American Railway Express Co. the action about to be taken. Grievances will be handled by a board under the railroad administration.

CHAPTER LXIII
STRENGTH FROM STRESS.
"The first to speak after John had told of Carter's offer to buy out their rights to the work, was Miss Selden. There was a slight moisture in her eyes and her voice was tremulous.
"As far as my share in the book entitles me to speak, I am most anxious that you should accept the offer!" she said.

The Ferrols understood her as though she had given all her reasons for the decision. They knew how badly she had felt that all their work should depend on the success of her book; how she had thought only of their welfare in its success, had trembled at the thought of failure because it would mean disaster to them. Now that she saw a chance for them to retrieve their luck, her emotion was one of happiness for her friends the Ferrols. Edith leaned over and kissed her in words of appreciation.

John looked at Edith for her decision. She shook her head.

"I'd rather not say anything, dear, until you tell me how you feel about the offer," she said.

John urged her.

"I am so evenly divided on the matter that what you and Miss Selden think would decide me," he said slowly. "It's a hard matter to decide. If I were single or just married, I should joyously accept the offer and give up the chance. There is storm and danger and uncertainty in store; but there is adventure too, and a chance for profitable ports. But it's not myself only I'm venturing."

He stole a glance at the children who were listening wide-eyed, not in the least understanding what the talk meant.

"I am for putting in at the port for time," John said finally. "Now Edith, tell me how you feel about it!"

She sat down by his side and without a word read the letter from the author. When Edith and John were alone, Edith hurriedly said:

"John, dear, I don't want you to feel I am committing you to lending Edgar my money. Only I do want you to look into the matter for yourself before I refuse him his chance. We have learned to risk our all on the best abilities we have. We have not given up with it, we have not considered legitimately taken stock in ourselves, and our ability. We have turned our little savings into an active power for to accept Mr. Carter's offer, she said.

"If so, I am going to take the children into the living room for a little celebration romp, if you will excuse us."

ANOTHER ENEMY QUIT.

Austria-Hungary has capitulated to the Ally governments and is out of the war. The armistice terms which it has accepted deprive the dual monarchy of the power for further military and naval offensive efforts and places Austro-Hungarian territory at the disposal of the Allies for their further military operations.

The territory which Austro-Hungary must evacuate to the Allies was accurately described by THE TRIBUNE a week ago. It includes, besides the districts occupied by Austrian armies, the territory heretofore under Austria dominion in the Trentino and Istria. Austrian jurisdiction in the south will now be limited to a line from the Swiss border conforming generally to the summit of the Rhaetian, Carnic and Julian Alps as far as the border of Croatia. The latter is a former Austrian province which has declared its independence preparatory to becoming a part of Jugoslavia. Italy recovers the Trentino and Istria, which includes the important cities of Trent and Trieste. Italy's frontiers will once again conform to the natural physical and ethnologic borders.

A large portion of the Austrian fleet must be handed over to the Allies and the remainder placed out of commission under Allied control. All the Austrian ports in the Adriatic are to be surrendered, except those of Croatia and Dalmatia, and the latter will be under Ally domination. The Danube river and all Austro-Hungarian railroads and equipment are to be at the disposal of the Ally armies. The Austrian armies are to be demobilized and half the military supplies and equipment given up.

Thus the armed adversaries of Germany are getting rapidly nearer to the German frontiers on the south and east. Austria becomes a zone of attack. The circle of steel grows stronger and closer to the heart of the nation that is responsible for the war and all its infamies.

With the collapse of Austria-Hungary there is every reason to conclude that the beginning of the end of German resistance has been marked. The armistice will be a hard blow to Berlin. It means that the entire southern front has crumbled. Bulgaria, Turkey and Austria have quit fighting. The territories and facilities of these former confederates in the war are means of attack against the German empire.

Will the surrender of Austria show the powers at Berlin the futility of further resistance and cause an early acceptance of Ally terms? There is every reason to hope that it will. But that is a contingency which the Ally peoples may contemplate with entire equanimity. If the German people accept their merited humiliation bravely and honestly and agree to make what reparation and expiation is humanly possible, so much the better for them. They will have to accept in time and in such a manner as to leave the peace of the world safe.

Aly peoples, rejuvenated by America's participation in the war, are not now so much afraid of war as they are of peace with Germany. The military leaders have been magnanimous toward Austria. They have permitted her soldiers to disarm and return to their homes, where they may at once begin the work of reconstruction.

But terms for Germany should be more strict than those granted Austria. The conceit of the military power of Germany should be broken and every citizen of the empire made to realize that the doctrine of force and compulsion is a hideous thing, inviting their ruin.

Just as the Austrian debacle in Italy forced the surrender of the dual monarchy Ally forces dealt hard blows against Germany on the west front. The American first and second armies, which for five weeks have been battling the strongest forces of the best troops Germany was able to concentrate against them, during Friday, Saturday and Sunday broke through the pivotal enemy front along the Meuse. Germany has been holding on in this sector with the courage of desperation in order to permit her forces to the north to retire in some semblance of order. That pivot now seems to be dislodged. The Americans, with their French comrades on the left, are making splendid progress northward, approaching the vital transportation line passing through Mezieres, Sedan and Montmedy. All these cities are now within range of the heavy guns.

DEFENDING HIGH PRICES.

Mr. Ralph P. Merritt, federal food administrator for California, has come forth with a voluntary statement defending the high price of eggs—the ninety-three-cent per dozen price that prevailed last Saturday. This statement is somewhat obscure and does not show within itself a good reason for its utterance. The burden of it is, however, to convince the public that the present price of eggs is due to the excessive demand on the current supply of fresh eggs and that no one connected with the egg business is making an unreasonable profit. Mr. Merritt says in part:

The present abnormal price of fresh eggs is due to the fact that the demand far exceeds the production and the only chance for a decrease in price during the influenza epidemic is for well persons to eat either cold storage eggs or none at all, so that sick people may be able to obtain more." And in conclusion, "Published criticisms of the price of California eggs as compared with prices is based on a misconception of eastern quotations."

It is a strange and entirely unexpected adventure for an official of the federal food administration to attempt to explain extortionate prices of food necessities and to uphold the wornout, easily-manipulated and often criminally misused theory of supply and demand. Mr. Merritt has defended high prices in oranges and eggs by pointing out that a disease epidemic had created an abnormal demand for both commodities.

The federal food administration finds its justification in four legitimate objects: To increase production, promote conservation, regulate and assist distribution, which includes prohibition of hoarding, and to prevent profiteering. The people have cheerfully and in a sheer miracle of patriotic cooperation followed the advice and instruction of the food administration wherever and whenever it was their part to do so. Every organ of publicity in the country has been at the disposal of the food bureau officials for the promotion of the original worthy objects.

It does not follow, however, that the prestige gained by these officials during the past year will cause the public to endorse the acts of food bureau officials in defense of profiteering prices on eggs and oranges. Mr. Merritt says the food administration has no control over producers. If that is true it is enough for him to say. It is not becoming for him to make a spurious defense of the producers' high prices on the fiction of supply and demand. It will be recalled that the food administration pledged itself to get food from producer to consumer at a reasonably low price.

The egg market is controlled by the egg producers' association, organized two years ago with the amiable and benevolent assistance of Colonel Harris Weinstock, State Market Director. Through notices to wholesalers and retailers that eggs must be sold at a certain price, the penalty for not doing so being the cutting off of supply, and other questionable methods, the producers' association controls distribution and wholesale and retail prices. If the food administration cannot reach and control the interests that control and manipulate the market it is due to a queer twist of technicalities, indeed.

Eggs have never been sold at a loss since the all-powerful producers' association was organized and there is absolutely no reason why they should now jump to over ninety cents a dozen. Supply and demand is about as much justification for profiteering as a defense by the California food administrator.

Count Karolyi, the new leader of the Hungarian government, has long been a leader of the movement for separation of Hungary from Austria. Probably no statesman in all the lands now and formerly under the dominion of the Hapsburg monarchy is better informed as to all the phases of European politics than he. While long an influential government leader under the monarchy he has also been friendly toward efforts at popular government, lending a helping hand wherever he could. Those Hungarians who are seriously working for a republic will find Karolyi's leadership safe. But remembering the fate of the Russian revolutionaries who overthrew Czarism, which they had been fighting for half a century, none will be surprised to learn that Karolyi has proved too conservative and been repudiated by his less informed colleagues.

Another new nation has been recognized as a defacto government and a belligerent Ally of this nation by President Wilson. This is Poland. A Polish army and national committee now is in existence and their territory will no doubt be freed before long. This act of recognition of Poland will change one of the fourteen terms of peace. Independent and autonomous Poland must be permitted to decide for itself what shall constitute its territorial limits.

Just as the Austrian debacle in Italy forced the surrender of the dual monarchy Ally forces dealt hard blows against Germany on the west front. The American first and second armies, which for five weeks have been battling the strongest forces of the best troops Germany was able to concentrate against them, during Friday, Saturday and Sunday broke through the pivotal enemy front along the Meuse. ## NOTES and COMMENT

While the report of the airplane investigation does not sustain the charge that outrageous profiteering characterized the first months of production, twelve have been indicated by a grand jury, indicating that somebody did something that wasn't regular. *

In this era of throne smashing there is one that is going to be propped up stronger than ever—King Albert's of Belgium. This reverse action will be the striking exception to the general rule.

It is difficult to accept the story that German soldiers were so ignorant of the situation as to believe that the Kaiser's forces had taken New York, yet it is probable that such information was disseminated. In fact, any story of deceit is possible after the many disclosures of duplicity on the part of the Huns.

When we read how the people of all countries heretofore dominated by the central powers rejoice when the allies come along it suggests that they were dragged in against their will or else had had enough of the thing they embarked in of their own accord.

The Kaiser's address to the chancellor against the Reichstag's action in amending the constitution is flimsy, and in some of the customary particulars ridiculous, but there is no allusion to or recognition of "Gott" anywhere about it. The boldness of prior references is thereby emphasized.

The assassination of Count Tisza was a regular undertaking, the soldiers who did it being protected by gendarmes. Showing how cold-blooded they are about such things.

Considering how perfectly obsessed the German people appeared to be with the Kaiser idea, it doesn't seem possible that anything approaching the Russian cataclysm can happen in Germany. Still, we have seen what they have been capable of in invaded lands. The spirit that has been so savage with other peoples may flame up against the person who has led the nation to the brink of the precipice.

The Bavarian royal family, in giving notice that it is entitled to the Prussian throne if the Kaiser quits, is entitled to be listed in the ranks of those who are hunting for trouble.

With the Turk it seems to be a matter of getting something to eat rather than keeping up his end of the German quarrel.

King Boris' season of pomp and circumstance was brief. He ascended the Bulgarian throne October 3 and descended October 31. From all accounts it appears that he is in luck to be permitted to merely die.

It is observed with satisfaction that the question is being mooted in Berlin as to whether those who were palpably responsible for the four years of awfulness are likely to be held to personal accountability. Common humanity demands that something be done to them more severe than a slap on the wrist.

A most pronounced instance of that proverbial habit of doctors to disagree occurred at Sacramento. A physician was so at variance with the health board which secured the passage of a mask ordinance that he refused to wear one, whereupon he was arrested and fined $5. He agreed to wear one thereafter.

SPIRIT of the STATE PRESS

The Fresno Mirror fibs: "The Republican refers to the Progressive party of this State as 'three bums.' Alas! Also alack! And, finally, gee! But yesterday it might have stood against the world; now lies it there, and none so poor to do it reverence!"

The News tells of a coincidence at Red Bluff: "There may be nothing in a name, but it is at least a coincidence that the name of the election inspector in the hospital precinct is Coffin."

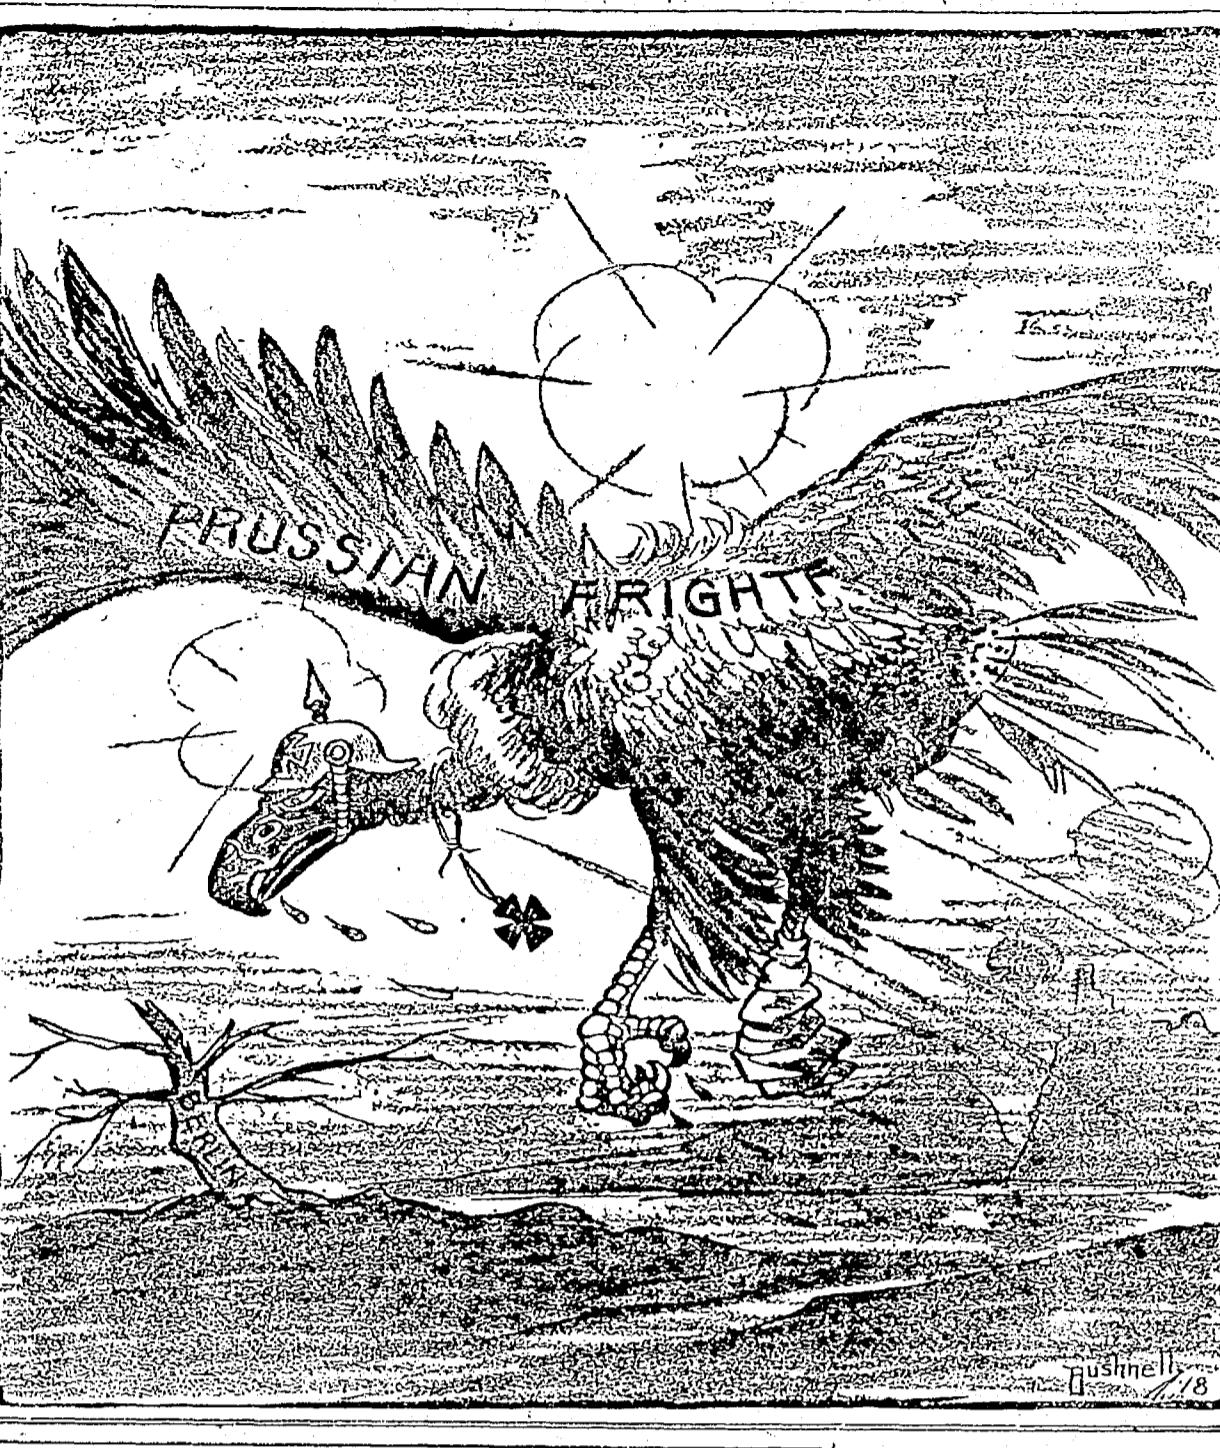

A leading firm of bean dealers in Los Angeles has issued a statement to the effect that the government is now taking beans from Michigan where the crop this year was a great success, and from Idaho, and it is not likely that California will be called upon for many beans this year. This is just the reverse of the situation last year, when the Michigan crop was damaged and California beans had to fill the bulk of government needs.—Ventura Free Press.

Our sympathies are with that seventeen-year-old youngster who "stirred" things up the other day in Los Angeles by shooting around rather promiscuously with his gun because his ladybird refused him the privilege of a bath for which he had supposedly paid. The weather must have grown more temperate there than usual, as he cheerfully paid a $25 fine and hurried out wreathed in smiles for the nearest Turkish bathhouse in the gay southern metropolis.—Holtville Tribune.

It doesn't relieve the suffering of little children in a family, or put clothes on their backs and food in their mouths, to condemn the father as worthless and failing in his duty. It is not the fault of the children that they are brought into the world by shiftless parents. Civilization owes duty to the little ones, and civilization must discharge that duty.—Red Bluff News.

One of the men who stand with flags at railroad crossings, east of town, signaling folk when the track is clear, takes considerable pride in keeping the crossing in order. A railroad crossing is generally a bumpy place, as we all can testify. But somebody left a load of gravel there for the flagman and in the intervals of waiting for trains he was tamping that crossing and making it as smooth as the rest of the street.—Stockton Record.

GOING HOME TO ROOST.

TAXING INDUSTRY TO DEATH

The senate finance committee labors to correct virtually every one of the Kitchin infinities and dangers. The committee, for example, has cut out the tax penalty loaded on industrial plants and business houses for saving some of their surplus for a rainy day. Kitchin says all earnings must be distributed, though evidently such a program, when any storm arose, would force industry and business upon the rocks. The senate finance committee says this fatal policy should not prevail.

Reports came from Alaska some time ago that Bernard was endeavoring to navigate the Northeast Passage, but no details were given. Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the Canadian explorer, on his return recently from the north, confirmed the reports.

Bernard has been out of touch with civilization for about two years, and, according to Stefansson, probably will not appear in the Atlantic until 1921. The trader left Alaska for the Northeastern outposts in 1916, and planned to make the trip in five years.

If Bernard succeeds, he will be one of the very few people who have negotiated the Northeast Passage. The latest to come through the ice channel was Raold Amundsen in 1909.

Bernard worked along the Northern Canadian coast with some of Stefansson's party in 1916, the explorer said. He soon left the explorer and pressed on into the barren waters to the east. The next heard from him may be when he turns up at some far Northern Atlantic port.—Detroit News.

CHROME IN RHODESIA.

The potentialities of Rhodesia as a mineral country have once again been demonstrated by the discovery of what is unquestionably stated to be by experts the largest deposit of high-grade chrome in the world, says the Rhodesia Herald. The deposit is situated in the Umvukwe, and the discovery was made by Albert Peake of Umvukwe Ranch, Lomagundi, over twelve months ago. Great interest was exhibited in the find in mining circles, as was naturally to be expected, and a great future for the industry was confidently predicted, and its success, of course, would be reflected in the enhanced prosperity of the territory.

During the past twelve months systematic and energetic development has proceeded and Messrs. Peake Brothers are now in a position to state that they have already fully exposed over 2,000,000 tons of exceptionally fine quality chrome. Work is continuing rapidly and enormous additions to the proved tonnage are constantly being made.

The area of the ground involved is some 450 acres in extent and excellent chrome is carried over the whole of the claims. The country is serpentine and the ore occurs in a series of eight parallel lines, the total length of the strike being over thirty miles. It has been proved that the chrome is wonderfully consistent in value, the average of over 300 samples taken at wide intervals being no less than 53 per cent. The strike continues without a break, there being 1500 acres of alluvial chrome-bearing soil, the concentrates of which average 45 per cent mineral, assaying 48 per cent chrome acid.

Eminent engineers estimate that the ore delivered at Bulwer would cost under 35 shillings ($8.50) per ton when the site of the strike is taken up with the plant installed. Midwinter Leaguers Are Ready for First Set of Games Sunday Afternoon

Joe Gordon and Elkworth Page Will Take Charge of the Crystal Nine

By EDDIE MURPHY

UNLESS Jupiter Pluvius gets gay the race in the Alameda County Midwinter League will start next Sunday. Last week the managers of the six teams representing the league were gloomy, but yesterday saw most of them feeling better and saying that their teams would be prepared to start the fifteen-week drive. But there is a bit of sad news for the fans, and which will account for the silence of Louis Legg, the Santa Fe Improver manager, since the last league meeting. Louis spent the past week at Santa Rosa, where his wife passed away a victim of influenza. For while Louis will give up baseball, and he has turned the management of the team over to Joe Gordon, who is being assisted by Captain Elkworth Page in lining up a fast set of players for the opening game with Fruitvale. Legg regrets that it will be impossible for him to handle the team from the start, but as soon as he can clear a few affairs which need his attention immediately, he will take over the club which has been changed from the name of the Santa Fe Improvers to the Crystal Laundry.

Page, captain of the Santa Fe Improvers' team, and claiming that the team will get one grand surprise next Sunday when the Crystal Laundry team is thrown out of the race, was in doubt until tomorrow night when all the managers will gather at an open air meeting.

Captain Page and acting Manager Joe Gordon of the Crystal Laundry team are requested to get in touch with the advertising department of The Oakland TRIBUNE as soon as possible. Phone Lakeside 6000.

CHANCE FOR A MANAGER TO LAND FIRST SACKER.

At St. George, a player who claims to be under contract to the St. Louis American League team, has been offered a place on the Crystal Laundry team, along with the deposit money, to enter the midwinter league to insure that the team will complete the season. Should Legg decide to give up baseball entirely, the chances are good that his best friends, it was Louis who has always kept a fast team in the field at Bushnell nearly every Sunday, but we hope that he does.

FRUITVALE MAY PLAY AT COAST LEAGUE PARK.

Charles Thollander, part owner of the Fruitvale club, announced the lineup of his team for next Sunday, and said he expects the Fruitvale club to play most of its games at the Oakland Coast League park. Thollander is pursuing a policy of not letting the team from Fruitvale leave its team during the Mission league race, and says he is not stuck on the idea of taking a chance of losing the team to another league. In Thollander's plan to play the first game of the season, which will be next Sunday morning, against the Crystal Laundry team, he has arranged to have the team when the Shipyards' league closes, the games will be played in the afternoon.

If it is impossible to get the Coast League to accept the team, it is to play at the Grove street park. Jerry Taylor is interested in handling the Fruitvale team with Thollander, and if it is not possible to get the name of the Fruitvale team, will be changed to something else before the present week passes.

KREMER WILL PITCH FOR MERRILL THOLLANDER-LAWLER.

Ray (Wiz) Kremer, the righthander, who has been pitching such fine ball for the Moors shipyard team in the shipyards' league, has one of the names among the list of players that Thollander and Taylor have signed for their team. How the pair of managers succeeded in nabbing the former from the Moors is not known, but Thollander has for the past week been claiming to have Kremer under contract, and now it is to play at the Grove street park. Jerry Taylor is interested in handling the Fruitvale team with Thollander, and if it is not possible to get the name of the Fruitvale team, will be changed to something else before the present week passes.

The McKinley Field, a newly organized baseball team, will be taken care of by the J. J. Krelg Jr. for a game and then the Moors will be taken care of by the Al-Hanion team, and will be played at the Newark field each Sunday starting at 2 o'clock.

The roster of the Newark Cub is as follows: Ed Ferrell, M. Timmons, Jon Stutz and Frank Sonres, infielders; Al Russell, Jack Soares, Eddie Boyle, Louis Paley, George Clegg, the former Great Western Power pitcher, King, Nichols and Bill Prine and 11 Yates, pitchers.

The entire force of rosters at the University of California are expected out to play Blue and Gold boys on, as Fred, Harry, Bill and Gold boys on, as last season defeated the Blue and Gold boys, 14 to 13. The boys at St. Mary's have always made things rough for the Newark Cub, and the Newark Cub promises to be an exciting one.

Andy Smith has his university team out each evening for practice, and it is due to dark before they leave the field.

THE ANDREW L. LARSON-RECTOR PLAYERS ARE RECOVERING.

Reports from the managers of the West Tractors, Vitt Grays and Marion-Elkworth, in which several players were laid up last week with attacks of influenza, are that most of the men will be ready to get back in the field Sunday. The fact that fact seems to be nothing but a present for the opening of the race. The Hanlon-Didders will entertain the Oakland Commission Merchants at Lincoln park in Alameda, the C. L. Best Tractors

Fifty-five Per Cent of Major Players Enlist

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Fifty-five percent of the 264 players under contract or reservation to the eight clubs in the American League are in the army or naval service, according to figures made public here today. The total number is 144 and more than three-fourths of them are in the army.

The Detroit club leads with 25 players, while Boston and Philadelphia are second with 20. Chicago and Cleveland have 19 each, while the New York and Washington clubs each have 14. St. Louis is at the bottom of the list with 13.

Great Lakes Coach Having Terrible Luck

GREAT LAKES, Ill., Nov. 5.—Coach Herman O'leary, chauffeur of the Great Lakes football team, is straining his eyes to find the alleged silver lining of the dark clouds that are gathering over the start of the athletic meet.

Recent happenings in the various cities are enough to bring the various "blues" to any coach. O'leary at one time lost a crack end, a fullback and a halfback, and is now in a race to shave another halfback and his quarterback, not to mention minor hurts to a couple of lucky linemen.

Figures from 9 to 11:30 a.m.

November 5, 1918

Spanish influenza claimed a toll of 41 deaths for the twenty-four hours ending at 9 o'clock this morning and an additional 13 deaths up to 1:30 o'clock today.

This exceedingly large number of fatalities is to be expected, according to Dr. Daniel Crosby, city health officer. In discussing the situation Dr. Crosby said: "While the total death to date, 1,763 cases large, it is nevertheless but a shade over 7 per cent of the total number of cases reported, which I consider a remarkably good showing."

Yesterday's figures show a slight increase over the two previous days, but is considerably lower than last Friday. Since the figures just reported in the twenty-eight hours after having remained at 217 for two days. The most encouraging feature of the situation to me is the fact that out of the whole less cases are reported than the day before and the releases show that a large number of persons are being discharged from the hospitals.

There are 91 less cases on hand today than yesterday although to this hour there have been 188 new cases reported in the twenty-eight hours.

AFFECTS ELECTION. That the flu is affecting the election is the opinion of many city hall attaches who have made the rounds of a number of polling places. They say that very few are presenting themselves at the polls and it is surmised that this is largely because of the influenza.

The Red Cross nurses' bureau located on the sixth floor of the City Hall, this morning reported that 200 additional volunteer nurses were needed. The response to the call for volunteers has so far not been large as the bureau had anticipated and as a result there is a woeful lack of help in the particular department of the work.

J. J. Mellon, secretary of the Health Department, today said that the department is now in very good shape. Last week there were 60 men reported off. Today but nine are confined to their homes.

The emergency influenza hospital at the Municipal Auditorium reports admission of 29 new cases in the past 24 hours to 9 o'clock this morning and nine deaths.

A considerable number of deaths are expected by tonight according to physicians in charge, a number of these to be transferred to the convalescent home.

DEATHS DROP. The number of arrests for violating the flu ordinance dropped to almost nil today, but three arrests being made between the hours of 9 and 11:30 o'clock today.

Chief of the fire department, Edward Whitehead, this morning reported the results from two men who are still very sick with the flu, the department is now in very good

5000 "Flu" Masks Made by Alameda

ALAMEDA, Nov. 5.—During the influenza epidemic, the women of the local chapter of the Red Cross have worked tirelessly and completed nearly 5000 masks, two thousand have been sent to San Francisco, while the rest were for home consumption. A supply of pneumonia jackets will be finished today, and this will forestall any emergency calls.

The first of the first quota of socks, sweaters and helmets have been completed. Many more are being urged to attend, as the second quota, which includes seventy-five sweaters, is overdue as the time necessary to complete this output was spent on making masks and relieving the influenza situation.

Wear Masks, Says S. F. Health Board

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—Health authorities were alarmed here today because influenza masks are being discarded in many offices and shops. While the epidemic is on the wane, they fear carelessness will spread the disease again. Thirty-five new cases were reported this morning. Thirty-one persons had died from the disease or its complications up to noon today.

More Assistance Asked. The office records show that since October 24, 1362 calls for assistance, including the supplying of physicians, trained and practical nurses, aides and housekeepers in influenza cases, have been received by the Red Cross nurses' bureau.

A slight increase in calls for aid was made yesterday over the preceding day. Fifty-five new applications having been filed, in addition to several renewals.

The following resolution adopted by the park board of Oakland was received this morning by Joseph E. Clark, chairman of the Red Cross influenza committee:

"Resolved, that the use of the de Fremery field house be and the same is hereby granted to the Red Cross influenza committee for a convalescent hospital during the present influenza epidemic. Light fuel and equipment to be paid for by the Red Cross."

DISTRICTS NOW NAMED. A recent order issued by Charles Piez, vice-president and general manager of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, authorizes the districts by which the various shipbuilding districts of the country have hitherto been designated and substitutes names therefor based on their geographical location.

District No. 7, embracing in its holdings the East Bay shipyards, is now known as the Southern Pacific District.

Captain A. F. Pillsbury, former district manager, has been advanced in grade to district manager.

District No. 8, taking in the yards at Portland and other points north of here, is now known as the Northern Pacific District. John F. Bain is district manager.

Dies of Illness She Caught Aiding Others

Mrs. Sigrid Karin Borgesen, a domestic science teacher in the Claremont school, died yesterday at her home, 905 Willow street, of pneumonia following influenza.

Since the establishment of the Prescott school nursery, where well children of families stricken with the epidemic have been cared for under the direction of the school teachers of Oakland, many cases have been received by the Red Cross nurses' bureau.

Miss Borgesen was a valuable worker. Her illness was brief. She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Borgesen, a teacher in the Oakland school department, and a brother, Clarence Borgesen.

The funeral will take place to-orrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the chapel of the California Crematorium for the volunteer workers.

WITH YOUR KIDNEYS

Science says that old age begins with

This being true, it is easy to believe
